Black Panthers Slate Convention

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Black Panthers say they will hold a national convention in Philadelphia this weekend whether the police like it or not in the streets if necessary. Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo, who canceled all leaves for his 7,000 men and put them on 12-hour shifts, said his department was "loaded for bear." His action followed dawn raids Monday on three Panther centers where police said guns and ammunition were found. Three police raiders were slightly wounded by shotgun fire.

A Panther spokesman said the raids were an attempt by Rizzo "to squash our convention, but it won't work."

Zayd Shakur, who identified himself as Panther information minister for New York State, told a sidewalk news conference in front of one of the raided centers Tuesday:

"We will meet here Saturday and Sunday and Monday as scheduled and no one will stop us."

"If it is necessary to hold it in the streets, we will hold it there. Bet on it, baby."

"I think we will have trouble from the police but so what?" Shakur added.

Fourteen persons found in the Panther centers were being held in $100,000 bail each on charges of conspiracy.

Rizzo said he had no power to prevent the convention. He said this was up to the mayor, governor or the courts.

The gathering, which the Panthers call their "Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention," is scheduled to open Saturday night in the 4,500-seat gymnasium of Temple University's new sports complex in the heart of the North Philadelphia black ghetto.

Participating will be the militant and radical leaders, both black and white, of the so-called New Left, draft resisters, anti-war protesters, women's liberation representatives, and others advocating swift social change, some by violence.

Temple has been under fire by several state legislators for permitting use of its state-owned facilities by the Panthers.

The university has given permission for use of the gymnasium for only the opening session, but organizers asked Tuesday for use of the arena Sunday. University officials said this was being considered.

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer expressed his personal opposition to Panther aims and violent rhetoric but refused to cancel the conference at Temple.

"I will not allow the powerful processes of state government to be used as an instrument of repression, to stifle dissent, to abridge freedom of expression," he said recently.

But after a series of weekend shootings in which one Philadelphia policeman was killed and six others wounded, the governor said he might reconsider his decision "if this conference is going to lead to mob action or rioting or destruction."

Saigon Gets Helicopters

SAIGON (AP) — The United States pushed ahead today with two new moves to disengage American forces from Vietnam, and the U.S. commander, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, said the ability of the South Vietnamese to defend themselves "has been greatly enhanced."

On the battlefields, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces remained on the alert for attacks to mark North Vietnam's National Day today and the first anniversary Thursday of the death of President Ho Chi Minh. But so far the anticipated surge had not occurred. Government forces claimed 51 enemy killed in two clashes in the Mekong Delta 45 and 130 miles southwest of Saigon and said their own casualties were light.

In the latest step in the Vietnamization program, the U.S. Army transferred for the first time a complete helicopter company of 31 UH1 Huey helicopters worth nearly $8 million to the South Vietnamese air force. American officers said it was the beginning of a program of transfers of entire helicopter companies.

The transfer ceremony at Bien Hoa Air Base 15 miles northeast of Saigon was held a few hours after an announcement from the U.S. Command confirming a report Tuesday that two American combat brigades totaling about 10,000 men are being disbanded. They are the 199th Light Infantry Brigade and the 3rd Brigade of the 9th Infantry Division.

The helicopter company that was turned over to the Vietnamese, the 260-man 190th Assault Helicopter Company, also is being disbanded.

With U.S. strength in Vietnam reported at 402,300 men as of last Thursday, deactivation of the two brigades and the helicopter company will leave only about 8,000 more men to be removed from the American force to reach the authorized strength of 384,000 men by Oct. 15 which President Nixon set as the goal of the fourth phase of his withdrawal program.

This total is to be cut another 100,000 by next April.

AS SOON AS the Federal Communications Commission gives its OK, the Western Union telegraph office will be moved from 122 S. Main St. to the Bus Station, Market and Fayette Sts., Mrs. Elizabeth Berry, the manager, said. The move has been in prospect for some time, she said.

Mrs. Berry said it is against company policy to estimate how many messages a day are sent from the office. She only said the service is used by many businesses and

Assassin Misses; Fear Mideast War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fighting between Iraqi and Jordanian troops threatened to break out today in the wake of another attempt to assassinate King Hussein. Baghdad Radio Jordan moved into position alongside Palestinian guerrilla forces "following the Jordanian shelling of Palestinian refugee camps and civilian quarters of said Iraqi troops stationed in the capital."

"This obliged the Jordanian army to withhold shooting at Fedayen (guerrilla) camp and civilian quarters," the broadcast said. It added that Iraqi troops had been alerted "to face actions against Palestinian resistance."

The Iraqi government said Tuesday it had threatened to order its 12,000 troops in Jordan into action against Hussein's army unless Jordanian troops stopped firing on the Palestinians.

Fighting broke out again between Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian forces in Amman Tuesday night after Amman Radio reported another attempt to assassinate the Jordanian king. The Al Fatah guerrilla organization said in Beirut that 10 persons were killed and 40 wounded during the night, and that sporadic shooting was still going on today.

Military sources in Beirut said that despite Baghdad's claims, the Iraqi troops in Jordan were neither much of a threat to the Jordanian army nor much potential help to the guerrillas. They said the Iraqis were mostly artillery and anti-aircraft units, not street fighters, and they added that the 55,000-man Jordanian army is the best in the Arab world and probably could contain the Iraqis.

Amman Radio denied that Jordanian troops had fired on refugee camps and said the government had the situation under control. A dispatch from Amman said the city appeared calm, but the streets were deserted, people were afraid to go out, shops were closed and there were no morning papers. Schools and government offices also were closed.

None of the joint guerrilla-army patrols set up last week to try to stop the fighting was seen in the streets. But guerrillas with bazookas were manning roadblocks and barricades in front of their headquarters and bases.

Radio Amman announced that the airport had reopened to regular traffic.

The Jordanian Cabinet was meeting in emergency session, and King Hussein was reported considering declaring martial law.

Radio Amman said Hussein's motorcade was fired on Tuesday as it approached a railway underpass but that the 34-year-old monarch was not hurt. He was on his way to the airport to meet his daughter, Princess Alia, whose flight was diverted to Beirut because of the attack.

It was the second assassination attempt against Hussein in three months. An attempt in June was followed by a week of fighting between Jordanian troops and guerrillas in which about 1,000 persons were killed or wounded.

Today was the fifth straight day of fighting between the army troops and the commandos. Clashes last weekend reportedly killed 12 persons and wounded 20.

Lunchroom Prices Increased

City School Renewal Levy Heads For Fall Decision

A new athletic director was employed, several new teachers were hired and several special assignments were made Monday night by the Washington C. H. Board of Education during its regular monthly meeting.

In a unanimous decision by members of the board, lunchroom prices were increased for the 1970-71 school year, to become effective Oct. 1. Superintendent Marshall D. Boggs, in view of rising food costs and salaries, recommended the increase of five cents per meal.

The board also busied itself with financial and maintenance problems which included the approval of a resolution which will formally place a 3.8-mill renewal levy on the November ballot for the consideration of voters.

Student discipline, painting Gardner Park Stadium, repairing the smoke stack at the Junior High School, approval of video-taping football games for delayed broadcast on television and emergency approval for live radio broadcasting of the Xenia football game were all considered during the busy meeting.

THE RAISE in lunchroom prices effective Oct. 1, according to Supt. Boggs, was brought about by cost of food items, the reduction of surplus commodities and the fact that expenditures were more in the 1969-70 school year than receipts.

Boggs also pointed out that salary increases had caused part of the spiraling costs. Lunch prices for students will be increased from 35 cents to 40 cents and from 40 cents to 45 cents for adults. The cost of extra milk will also be raised to seven cents.

The board, on Supt. Boggs' recommendation, decided to make the hike effective Oct. 1, rather than immediately, to allow parents time to adjust their budgets. Supt. Boggs also said that if government commodities increase, there is no reason why milk prices can not be readjusted at a later date.

The high school cafeteria will also feature increased variety this year, including an additional type of sandwich for those students wishing to substitute for a regular menu item, Supt. Boggs said.

REVALUATION of property, showing an increase in the Washington School District, caused the readjustment by the Budget Commission of a 3.9 mill tax levy to 3.8 mills.

At the budget hearing held Aug. 31, the formula used to reduce the rate was in the school district's favor, Supt. Boggs told the board. The 3.9 mill levy was the only one adjusted; the rest will remain as they were in 1969, he said.

The new appraisal established the tax duplicate at $34,837.227 and the new tax rate for operation is 22.80 mills, including the 3.9 mills to be placed on the November ballot for mass sweep of the Vinton - Hocking County border by some 250 law enforcement officers got underway early today in an attempt to flush out the killer of Vinton County Sheriff Harold Steele.

Police Chief Rodman Scott said three officers from his department are in Vinton County today as part of the massive sweep planned to flush the killer out of the hills. They are Patrolmen William Cates, Larry Walker and Bert Blair.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur and several Fayette County auxiliary deputies are also in Vinton County while Sheriff Don Thompson returned home Tuesday night.

Stans said despite howls from localities that felt slighted in previously released preliminary counts, he thinks the 1970 census will prove to be the most accurate ever.

He said the bureau has completed redchecks involving 6 1/2 million persons and turned up only 4,200 missed the first time around. He said he was sure that would be the case with the rest of the redchecks requested by localities.

Dr. George H. Brown, director of the census, said "we have every reason to believe" that the final count will be less than 3 per cent off.

UAW Expected To Reject Automakers' Contract Offer

DETROIT (AP) — Top officials of the United Auto Workers union meet with representatives of the union's rank-and-file today to discuss new contract proposals from the Big Three automakers.

The union leadership was expected to recommend the rejection of the offers to three employee councils representing 730,000 workers at General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., and Chrysler Corp.

The 25-member UAW International Executive Board also was scheduled to meet today and may pick a strike target.

Negotiations are concentrated on the target firm and if no agreement is reached, the union says it will strike that company when the current pact expires at midnight Sept. 14.

Any settlement reached with the target company traditionally becomes a pattern for settlement with other automakers.

The heads of the UAW bargaining teams at all three companies described the contract offers Tuesday as "ridiculous" and "insane." Union bargainers said the offers would have to improve greatly to avoid a strike.

Earl Bramblett, vice president in charge of labor relations at GM, replied:

"I regret that the union has seen fit to ridicule our $1.4 billion increased wage proposal, the largest economic offer in the history of General Motors."

"We hope the union will make a more realistic appraisal when its council studies the proposal."

The automakers said they proposed increases in wages alone for the three-year period of 13.5 per cent, adding that this would cost around $2.3 billion.

McGovern Says Viet War Now Belongs To President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate vote against the "end-the-war amendment" was the final step in turning over complete responsibility for the Indochina war to President Nixon, contends George McGovern.

"His unchecked and unfettered role now as the chief executive makes him responsible alone now for developments in the future," the senator said in an interview. "If things come out well, he'll be a hero. If things come out as I think they will—which is very poorly—then he's in trouble."

McGovern, leader of the forces that lost 55-39 on the Hatfield-McGovern amendment requiring withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Vietnam by the end of 1971, was relaxed and unruffled as he sat in his office a few hours after the vote Tuesday and talked about its meaning.

"I think it is an abdication of our constitutional responsibility to place the whole burden on the President," said the South Dakota Democrat.

"Today, all during this debate, the White House message was 'leave it to the President. He's getting us out, he's in charge, don't try to influence judgments or provide any guidelines at all—give him a free hand.' And the Senate voted to do that today."

The President, McGovern said, made a mistake in insisting on keeping the sole possession of the decision when to end the war.

"He has whatever ego satisfaction comes from demonstrating that he's running the show, that he's running the war," the senator said.

"But he has the great political hazard of making a decision that at best is going to be controversial and unpopular. There's no way to back out of this war now and look graceful about it. You can't settle a war that we're going to settle short of victory without setting off a lot of cries of anguish in the country."

The amendment was born in McGovern's office in late April—just before the incursion in Cambodia. Four versions of it came to the Senate—all of them bearing the imprint and zeal of the senator from South Dakota.

Is he now discouraged?

"Temporarily," McGovern said. "I'll recover by tomorrow. I am baffled as to why so many senators who are willing to admit the whole war is a mistake are so reluctant to terminate it. That, I think is a paradox that is discouraging."

Senate OKs Spending Bill For Military Procurement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five weeks of debate on the weapons and cost of war and the ways and means of peace have left scars on the Senate but few dents in President Nixon's armor.

In 129 1/2 hours of debate the Senate probed some of the most controversial proposals of the year, rejected most of them and left intact the buying power of a $19.2 billion procurement bill.

The Senate voted down several attempts to curb what critics branded as waste in military spending—attempts which included an ill-fated move to trim $5.2 billion from the $70.2 billion Defense Department budget.

Also turned back were attempts to forbid the use of crop- and forest-killing herbicides in Vietnam, bar the use of draftees in Vietnam, and compel the Pentagon to abide by its "fly-before-you-buy" spending guidelines.

The Senate did approve giving Congress power to set future troop levels and to limit spending for frequent rotation of military personnel.

It agreed to two amendments by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to forbid U.S. funds for support of foreign troops fighting for the governments of Laos and Cambodia.

The $19.2 billion bill now goes to a conference with the House where major differences to be settled are changes written by the Armed Services Committee, not on the Senate floor.

In terms of money, the most important is a $1.3 billion reduction from the spending level approved by the House.

In terms of policy, the most significant change is deletion of Pentagon authority to begin work on an area antiballistic missile system oriented toward a possible future attack from Communist China.

Census Shows Shift To Warm Weather Areas

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The just-completed census sketch of America has a familiar look. It depicts a nation of 200-plus million persons in search of warm weather or suburbia.

The population was put at 179,323,175 by the 1960 Census. The nation's full-scale portrait won't be unveiled until the final, official tally is completed and sent to President Nixon by Dec. 1. But the preliminary figures announced Tuesday by Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans provides a good preview.

It is surprisingly unsurprising, backing up what the Census Bureau had projected all along on the basis of the old 1960 figures and subsequent spot samplings.

It shows: —A nationwide total of 200,263,721 persons counted so far, and likely to go to between 204 and 205 million by the time such still-uncounted categories as overseas servicemen are added. The bureau had projected 204.8 million for last April 1, the date the census was taken.

—California grew the most, by nearly 4 million to 19.7 million, to replace New York as the most populous state.

—Americans moved toward warm weather. Florida and Texas joined California as states with more than a million population growth, along with the colder but already teeming states of New York and New Jersey. The largest percentage increases were scored by Nevada, with 68.9 per cent, Florida with 34.7 and Arizona with 34.6.

—Suburbanites outnumber residents of inner cities for the first time. Thirteen of the 25 largest cities in the '70 tally had lost population, including Chicago, Detroit and Baltimore. New York held about even. Big gainers were the warm-weather cities of Los Angeles, Houston, Dallas, San Diego, San Antonio and Phoenix.

—Farm population declined from 15 million to 10 million. Old migration patterns continued, from the center of the nation to the coasts and from South to North.

Stans said despite howls from localities that felt slighted in previously released preliminary counts, he thinks the 1970 census will prove to be the most accurate ever.

He said the bureau has completed redchecks involving 6 1/2 million persons and turned up only 4,200 missed the first time around. He said he was sure that would be the case with the rest of the redchecks requested by localities.

No More Spotted Furs

At a time when numerous species of animals are in imminent danger of extinction, any small victory for conservationism deserves note. In that spirit we welcome the news that the Furriers Joint Council of New York, an AFL-CIO union whose members cut and fashion skins, have agreed to do no further work on pelts of the endangered spotted cats — leopard, cheetah, jaguar, ocelot, and so on. This was agreed to after discussions with World Wildlife Fund, a global conservation group which strives to keep such animals from being destroyed in response to fashionable demand for coats and their fur. World Wildlife began a worldwide movement several years ago to persuade furriers, designers and fashionable women not to use skins of endangered species, especially the spotted cats. The agreement with the union, which applies to its members coast to coast, is the latest evidence of the success of this effort. The union also plans to take similar action with regard to other species if they become seriously endangered. It is an important step in conservation.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren Wig Deal Causes Shaky Friendship

DEAR ABBY: About six months ago I won a wig at a raffle at our church bazaar. It was a good one that would sell for $65 in any store. I tried it on and my husband said I looked like Merv Griffin. Well, I never wear it.

One day a friend of mine came over and asked me what I did with the wig I had won. I told her it was still in the box. She asked if she could try it on. We both thought it looked great on her. Then she asked if she could take it home and show it to her husband, so I said sure.

The next morning she called and said she'd give me $35 for it, which was a good deal for me because I only paid a dollar for the raffle ticket I won it with.

My friend kept the wig and me the money. A deal, right? Well, three months later she called and asked if she could bring the wig back. She said she wore it once and her husband decided he didn't like it on her, so she has no use for it.

Do I have to take the wig back?

MAD
DEAR MAD: No. Tell your friend to sell it to Merv Griffin. If he ever flips his wig, he'll have a spare.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my husband and his foolish ways.

We have five children, ages 3 to 17. We can't put a light on to go to the bathroom at night. (It's "wasting electricity.") If the telephone rings after 8 p.m. (it's usually for one of the kids) my husband wants to tear the phone out of the wall. (He did that twice.)

He locks his dirty clothes in his tool box in the cellar so I can't wash them. Once he took a bolt out of my washing machine so I couldn't use it.

About Snuff And Things

By RANDOLPH SCHMID
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — One of my childhood images built up by years of movie going has been ruined. I took a pinch of snuff, held it to my nose, inhaled sharply, and failed to sneeze.

For some reason the dandies in all the old Errol Flynn movies always sneezed. I was a little disappointed. It was an interesting experience, though, and surprisingly pleasant.

America's current fashion movement toward many of the styles that were popular long ago seems, although quietly, to be affecting the snuff industry.

The snuff makers estimate that more than six million Americans now use snuff — although less than one per cent of them inhale it.

Tom Vaughan of the Conwood Corp., in Memphis, formerly known as the American Snuff Co., explained that Americans lost their taste for inhaling snuff right after the Revolutionary War. Since then, he said, almost what I should do about it, if anything.

UPSET
DEAR UP: I think you owe Judy and her mother an apology. An hour is a long time for visitors to be entertained by "other members of the family" when they came especially to visit with you.

DEAR ABBY: We thoroughly agree with "SICK OF HYPOCRITES." Invariably, when an "X" rated movie is shown in our theater, some people will sit through it twice, and then come out and complain about how disgusting it was.

Some even have the gall to ask for their money back.

We feel that the most "disgusting" thing about an "X" rated film is the kind of people who come to see them.

all Americans have used snuff by placing it between the lower lip and gum in their mouth.

Basically snuffs, the dipping kind you put in your mouth, are either dry or moist with moist popular in the North and dry in the South.

Conwood is now test marketing sniffing snuff for the first time in this country, to see if it will catch on. In fact in a move for convenience the company is also selling what it calls "Snuffettes." These are little tablets of compressed snuff which you can pop into your mouth without worrying about spilling all that finely ground tobacco all over the place.

"Snuff which you inhale can be especially good at breaking the ice at a dull party," Vaughan commented, "it brought most of the people around me asking what it was and wanting to try it."

Snuff was being regularly used by the Indians when Columbus landed and, of course, his crew took the habit back to Europe where it took society by storm.

After a grand age in the 17th and 18th centuries snuff use declined, giving way to smoking. It climbed again during World War II, when thousands of servicemen chose to chew rather than show their position with a lighted cigarette.

To the uninitiated, chew snuff tastes rather like mild chewing tobacco, although its first few uses can make you sick.

Starting in 1949 snuff use took a dip and continued steadily down until three years ago when the trend began reversing itself.

Sylvia's astonishing adventures at the club would undoubtedly comprise an excellent anthology on how not to play the game, but such a compilation, if published, would inevitably be regarded as simply the product of a wild imagination instead of the actual incidents on which it would be based.

When she started to play at the club, Sylvia's conception of the game was something that had to be seen to be believed. It was not that Sylvia made her many astounding bids or plays in an effort to be brilliant, but only that her peculiar and tangential form of reasoning led her to what could politely be described as eccentric conclusions.

Sylvia tried her level best to conform to the frenzied advice her partners so volubly expounded, but they never knew what interpretations she would place upon their remonstrations when the next hand was dealt.

This was especially true whenever Sylvia learned a new convention; no one could possibly predict the havoc that might result from her personalized use of it.

Nevertheless, Sylvia occasionally accomplished a tour de force as a result of her meanderings. For example, take this hand which arose right after she took up Blackwood.

Sylvia was South and opened two hearts. West bid two spades and East three hearts, at which point Sylvia branched out into Blackwood. Why she wanted to learn how many aces her partner had is impossible to explain, but, having learned a new convention, Sylvia was determined to make use of it.

North, with no aces, responded five clubs, which Sylvia raised to seven. East led a spade and North scored 2,240 points with his hand.

Sylvia's opponents were understandably upset by the outcome, and all the more so when they realized that had Sylvia first bid clubs instead of North, West would have been on lead and would have defeated the contract by leading a heart, which East's cuboid called for.

Guide To Good Health

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

WITH so many young people smoking "pot" what effect will it have on the unborn child if "pot" is smoked during pregnancy? Will it affect the child if it is breast-fed?

Mrs. T. O. F., Calif.
Dear Mrs. F.: The generally accepted rule of safety is to use as few drugs as possible during pregnancy.

Obstetricians and family doctors try to avoid all but the most essential drugs during this period.

Marijuana contains toxic elements which must be considered a potential hazard for the unborn child. Certainly, some of the active ingredients in marijuana must contaminate the milk and adversely affect the nursing child.

I am certain that many of the young marijuana enthusiasts can give all the "scientific" reasons why it is not dangerous under any circumstances. Then they will go on to the standard argument: "If alcohol is all right, why not pot?"

This is a type of false reasoning that serves a purpose for "pot" smokers, but has no validity. The next generation might well say: "If pot is all right, why not LSD and mescaline?"

A reverse position approach would be elimination of the first hazard rather than compound the risk to health.

Let me reiterate that all pregnant women must avoid all drugs unless prescribed by their physicians. They owe this protection to themselves and to the unborn child.

What is the cause of a deviated septum of the nose? When should it be straightened?

Mr. H. J., Arizona
Dear Mr. J.: The nasal septum is a partition composed of bone and cartilage. It divides one side of the nose from the other.

It is very rare to find a septum that is completely straight. Venturing a guess, I would say that not more than five out of a hundred people would have a perfectly straight septum. The septum can be

Man-In-The-Store Can Help On Do-It-Yourself Projects

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Sales of house materials are tempting many do-it-yourselfers to do home projects during their vacation. And the availability of professional help during the summer months may tempt some do-it-yourselfers to let someone else work while they loll in the hammock.

However, in these tight-money days, not every sale is a bargain.

For example, it is easy to overestimate the lumber, paint and wallpaper needed and it may even be more expensive to underestimate the amount of materials required. Determining quantity requires careful consideration.

Professional workers can estimate quantities of materials more accurately than do-it-yourselfers.

Bargains may intrigue a home handyman to do a long-considered project. But there is no saving in the sales merchandise if you don't get what you want or things you really need.

If you want redstriped wallpaper for the living room, you may not be overjoyed later with the sale-priced yellow floral that clashes with the red sofa. And if you select a material that is available only in limited quantity and you do not have enough to complete the project, you may be in a decorating dilemma.

OVERSTOCKING on shingles because they are on sale, may actually raise the cost of the project. You may have shingles left over, but can you use them? Also, there is nothing more useless than the extra quart of odd-color paint.

You may save it for touchups but when you again paint the living room, the whole decorating scheme may be changed.

On the other hand, an extra quantity of wallpaper may pay off because you may not be able to match it, if you must, and it takes considerable time for stores to restock such material. If the store is given exact dimensions, they can help you estimate the necessary quantity.

And if you hire a professional worker he will estimate the amount required. It will be thriffter to have a roll of material left over than to have the wallcovering man return to finish the job.

He would have to cart his equipment into the house and set up his work tables and tools. It takes time.

You couldn't blame him if he charged you an additional half or whole day for a few hours work, even if the project lasts only an hour or two. He may have to kill a whole day on your small job.

CARPET TILES have become a do-it-yourself project. And if one orders a few extra tiles, they will not be a total loss. For example, if junior drops his airplane glue on the carpet, one tile might be removed and easily replaced.

If you have a few extra tiles, you might test one or two in the washing machine.

One laundromat operator has been washing carpet tiles in machines. A load of carpet flooring that looked bright and clean was in his shop for the second time, he explained.

The synthetic tiles had some of the rubbery backing torn away, but the operator said this had happened when the tiles were removed from the floor.

The woman customer said these irregular spots didn't affect the fit of the tiles when they were replaced.

Debut Scheduled For Labor Day

Community Band Taking Form

Portion Of New Community Band In Rehearsal

About three months ago, Walter Burckholter, the Washington High School Band director, had an idea; it wasn't exactly a new idea; rather, it was the resurrection of an old idea.

This time, however, the idea materialized and a Community Band is the result.

It will make its public debut at the Firemen's Labor Day celebration at 4 p.m. Monday in Eymann Park.

The Community Band is under the direction of Walter D. Larrimer, who was a director of Army bands for 40 years. Miss Carol McCoy, a former member of the Washington High School Band, is the assistant director. She is now a senior music major at Capital University.

With Washington High School bands turning out budding musicians for many years and Miami Trace High School for the last ten, there is plenty of talent for a Community Band. The hitch is that so many of these band members have laid aside the instruments, because they had no further use for them after leaving school. A Community Band could change that; whether it will get them out again now is conjectural.

The size of the Community Band varies from 20 to 40 pieces, depending on the time of rehearsals. How many will be there for the debut will not be known until they take their places and Director Larrimer raises his baton.

Burckholter's idea started to materialize, when he passed it along to Miss McCoy; she became what could be described as the "personnel manager." She took the matter up with David Finley, a fellow music student at Capital University, Marge Lentz and Peggy Nestor, who played in the WHS Bands.

They checked their memories for former high school band members and got busy on the telephone and in person. Their recruiting efforts got results and rehearsals started a month ago in the WSHS band room, with Miss McCoy the director.

Since Miss McCoy still has another year at the university, it was deemed essential to have a permanent director. Walter Larrimer was the answer and he agreed to take the assignment.

The band's repertoire includes just about any type of music — popular, tunes from Broadway musicals, classics and marches.

Miss McCoy explained that with many of the band members either returning to college or to other fields of endeavor, the future of the Community Band is somewhat hazy. However, there is the hope that it will grow and interest in it increase. Miss McCoy said anyone interested in joining the band should get in touch with her or Larrimer or Burckholter.

Dog Lover Takes Axe To Jetliner

MIAMI (AP) — A dog lover blaming the death of his traveling Irish wolfhound on an airline took a $6.60 axe and hacked 18 slashes in a $5 million jetliner to get "what they owe me."

Thomas William Brown, 38, a lanky carpenter who said he blamed Eastern Airlines for the death of his 2-year-old champion dog, Lost River, threw black paint on a Boeing 727 cockpit Monday and slashed its underbelly before a crewman stopped him, the FBI said.

The airline estimated the damage at $100,000.

The dog died May 22 of what a veterinarian called a heat stroke shortly after returning to Miami from Dallas in the cargo hold of an Eastern jet. The dog had been sent to Dallas to be bred.

"Sabina schools will open Tuesday as scheduled. The Health Department has had many calls because of rumors that school is not opening because of hepatitis."

There has been an increase of hepatitis cases in the Sabina area, but not sufficient in number to constitute reason to interfere with normal activities."

CURFEW CONTINUES

The ordinance providing for a curfew on all minors under the age of 18 will remain in effect indefinitely according to Sabina Mayor Edward Hodge. The curfew prohibits activities by youth in public places between midnight and 5 a.m. on Friday and Saturday, and 11 p.m. to 5 a.m. the rest of the week.

Passed as an emergency measure effective Aug. 3, the curfew was instituted by Council to curtail the activities of a "very small group of kids who were running around and whose parents don't care where they are or how late they're out," according to Mayor Hodge.

The ordinance provides for a warning, on the first offense and fines or fines and jail sentences for the parents of repeated offenders. The mayor stated that a few warnings have been issued since the measure was signed.

Youths accompanied by parents or guardians are not affected by the ordinance, it was disclosed.

Mobile Home Living On Spectacular Up-Surge

By DAVID TOMLIN
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mobile homes are getting an impressive ride from Ohio's housing shortage and tight money.

Last year some 18,000 new homes - on wheels rolled into the state, enough to make Ohio the nation's 5th largest purchaser of mobile homes.

Tight money and housing construction cutbacks have had a lot to do with the growth.

The executive director of the Ohio Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Association, Gene Kenner, reports mobile home purchases in Ohio increased from 8,200 in 1967 to 18,000 in 1969, a jump of nearly 125 per cent in two years.

According to one observer the rising popularity of mobile homes could have "a very significant effect" on Ohio's housing shortage.

Most of the homes come from manufacturers in Indiana, but Kenner says there are some 14 producers in Ohio.

Mobile home living has a special appeal for young couples and families with incomes of $8,500 or less who may find themselves priced out of the housing market.

Example: to buy a modest home at $17,500 a young couple would likely have to pay $6,000 down and monthly installments of $89 over 25 years at eight per cent interest.

Their payments would total $32,700 for what the Mid Ohio

Regional Planning Commission terms "the most inexpensive house that can be constructed by traditional methods and maintained over the long range."

Mobile home prices peak at about $12,000. A ten-state mobile home consumer survey by Michigan State University, including Ohio, shows mobile home prices average between $6,000 and $7,000 for a two or three-bedroom unit.

On a $6,500 mobile home the down payment would be about $750, and monthly payments, including sales tax and insurance for five years, would amount to $120. Total cost after seven years would be $10,800 at about 11 per cent interest.

Lot rentals average an additional $40 per month.

Forty per cent of mobile home buyers pay cash. The rest finance them as they would an automobile.

The market has been stimulated by the 1969 Housing Act which authorizes the Federal Housing Administration to guarantee mobile home mortgages.

A substantial part of the price difference between a small house and mobile home represents the cost of the lot. And while real estate likely will increase in value over the years, mobile homes depreciate like cars.

Mobile home advocates claim that modern mobile homes have more going for them than economy. They say a substantial proportion of mobile home buyers are people who could afford to buy houses but have chosen not to.

There is evidence to support this. The MSU consumer survey showed nearly half the mobile homeowners studied previously had owned conventional homes.

Drivers who have found themselves behind a mobile home in transit can testify to the units' generous size by comparison with ordinary house trailers. The average is 57 feet long by 12 feet wide.

In addition, they often are equipped with decorator paneling, expandable rooms and other luxury features conventional house trailers have not offered.

Mobile home parks are changing too, Kenner says, adding that the image of the shabby, crowded "trailer camp" is obsolete.

But city dwellers and potential next door neighbors of mobile home parks are not so sure. Ohio's largest cities have ordinances forbidding development of new parks or restricting them to less desirable areas.

Columbus planners are working now on a new zoning district proposal for mobile home parks. Planning Director Philip Dolan says the new district will include strict standards governing lot size, power and sanitary facilities, street pavement and other features.

Most mobile home builders and developers welcome the tighter restrictions, Kenner says.

The Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Association is already working with the state health department on increased sanitary regulations for the parks.

But Dolan expects strong public opposition to the new Columbus zoning ordinance. "People just have an unnatural fear of mobile home units," he said.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow
PLANETARY influences make this a day in which to be realistic—and cautious—in all things. This pertains to personal relationships especially. Steer clear of persons who have proved to be a source of irritation in the past, and try to avoid misunderstandings with those in close circles. Do not put too much faith in new and sudden "romances."

For the Birthday
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that the time has come in which to make practical use of the knowledge and experience you have acquired during the past year. Much that you have learned in the art of dealing with others, in mapping out constructive work plans and of the patience needed when progress is slow will prove of great value—not only in avoiding possible pitfalls during the next 12 months, but in the building of a solid foundation for a brighter future.

All this does not mean you will have a difficult year. In fact, you have some excellent periods ahead. For instance: Stars promise some fine opportunities for advancing job-wise during a splendid cycle beginning on the 10th of next month and lasting until mid-January; also in late March, early May and throughout another outstanding 3-month cycle beginning on June 1. On the fiscal score, you are slated for gains in November, January, early March and mid-July, but stars strongly advise conservatism in spending during intervening periods.

Where personal matters are concerned, most propitious periods for romance will include October, December, late March and August; for travel October, December, January, April and August. Despite some possible tension in close circles during February and/or July, all should be serene on the domestic and social seas.

A child born on this day will be extremely trustworthy and discreet—qualities which would make him an excellent confidential secretary or, on a still higher level, an outstanding diplomat.

THE NEW MODELS will be out in about a month, John Standard, the general manager, said. No general showing is planned but all the dealers will be invited to come here to see them on what Standard described as an "individual basis"; by this plan, he explained, they will have more time to look them over carefully and to talk over the construction and added features. William Stoughton, a former Area Chamber of Commerce manager, is the sales manager.

The backlog of orders, Standard said, is considered healthy in that it assures continuing, rather than spotty, production schedules.

The Washington C. H. plant is now branching out into production of double wide mobile homes—that is mobile homes so designed as to make practical the joining of two to form large one. About 20 per cent of the production is now devoted to the new double mobile homes, Standard said, and added that they are finding a ready acceptance by the public. What, if anything, this will mean to the plant here he did not say.

MOST of the Kirkwood Mobile Homes produced at the plant here come off the assembly line completely furnished—with wall to wall carpeting and built-in kitchen and bathroom facilities. They may be purchased unfurnished, he said. He explained that the furnished mobile homes appeal to young people just starting into house-keeping, while some of the older married couples who want to move from a conventional home

Police Seek Fleeing Trio

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police today sought three suspects who fired at and escaped from detectives seeking to question them Tuesday night about the Aug. 23 shooting of a Cincinnati officer.

The trio fired at the detectives as they approached them in the parking lot of the Rockdale Temple, a former synagogue now used for a community center in the Avondale section.

Patrolman Edmund Schindler remained in fair condition at Cincinnati General Hospital. He had been shot through the chest as he sat alone in his cruiser near the same area.

Sergeant Russell Jackson, homicide commander, said the three men ran around the building and police believed they were holding up inside.

A large number of officers were summoned to surround the building, traffic was blocked off for nearly a mile around. Fire Department search lights panned the building as police made a floor-by-floor fruitless search.

Jackson said warrants charging shooting to kill were filed against the men, known by name to police.

The Schindler shooting launched an outcry in Cincinnati and police officials assigned two policemen to each cruiser as a safety measure.

Cincinnati City Council appropriated $54,000 for overtime pay and expanded recruiting as a result.

Woman's Body Found Battered In Woods

A Tipp City man found the body Tuesday while walking through the woods. Deputies and copper.

Urge Race Percentage In Suburbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of the presidential task force for urban problems says poor or black families should be permitted to live in white suburbs, but their numbers should be limited to avoid threatening middle class domination.

Dr. Anthony Downs, a Chicago real estate analyst and member of the presidential task force for six years, compared his proposal to assignment of school pupils on a racial percentage basis.

Downs told the Senate Equal Educational Opportunity Committee Tuesday some suburbanite fears are legitimate. But he said the wealthy and middle classes should not be allowed to deny equal treatment to some.

He conceded his plan would deny equal treatment to some. "For example, in order to insure that the middle-class residents of a neighborhood would dominate its life styles regarding certain traits, and yet also allow some low-income residents in the area, it would be necessary to place some upper limit on the number or proportion of low-income residents there," Downs said.

"Low-income households moving into the area before that limit was reached would be given access freely—in fact, encouraged to enter," he said.

"But those who attempted to enter the area after the desired proportion had been reached would be denied access, or strongly discouraged from entering," Downs said.

He said such discriminatory treatment—based upon recognition of the need to attain a certain social goal—may be unconstitutional. But he noted there had been the same question of constitutionality concerning racial assignment of pupils.

"Thus it is now possible and even mandatory for public school systems to take race into consideration when assigning pupils to various schools," he said.

Downs said simultaneous reforms must be made in school taxation, to quit penalizing communities which accept low-income residents and educate their children with no gain in tax revenue.

He said the federal government and realtors must share blame for the racial and economic separation between the poor in deteriorating cities and the more affluent in the suburbs.

But he said the myriad of rationalizations, some legitimate, with which the mostly white suburbanites defend their exclusionary actions must be credited with a goodly share of blame.

He cited middle-class demands for schools made up of children from similar backgrounds; holding down property taxes; keeping the crime rate low, and retaining property values.

European Nations Fight U.S. Leadership In Plane Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight European nations are combining efforts to build a family of aircraft to challenge the U.S. role as the world's aviation leader, says William M. Magruder, chief Nixon administration backer of America's faster-than-sound airliner.

Magruder, SST development director for the Department of Transportation, said the leader of this airline fleet will be the British-French Concorde, the 1,400-mile-an-hour transport already being flight-tested successfully.

He did not name all the countries involved, but identified the A300B air bus being developed jointly by France, West Germany and Britain, the British BAC311, and the French Dassault Mercure.

In a talk Tuesday before the Aero Club of Washington, Magruder noted Secretary of State William P. Rogers had said West Germany may decide to join Britain and France in developing a second-generation Concorde that would compare in size and economy to the 1,800-mile-an-hour SST being developed by the Boeing Co. of Seattle.

Magruder said because of its production of a wide range of aircraft, from tiny planes up to the largest jets, the United States provides the world with 85 per cent of its civil aviation fleet. European nations buy 40 to 50 per cent of these planes.

The value of this market through 1980 will be from $22 billion to $50 billion, he said.

"There is a dedicated attempt abroad to take away civil aviation from the United States," Magruder said.

"The SST is a piece of the action. "If we default on this fleet leader, for the first time in the 40 years of aviation a purchaser will be unable to come to this country and get everything in the way of airplanes he wants. He will have to go to a foreign producer instead," he said.

Magruder is battling for Senate approval of a House recommendation that the SST program be given $290 million for the start of construction of two prototype flight-test SSTs.

Joliet Prison-Inmate Linked To 18 Unsolved Slayings

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Michigan investigator says a 41-year-old inmate of Joliet Prison in Illinois is the prime suspect in 18 unsolved sex slayings in Michigan, the Chicago area and Cleveland.

Andrew L. Novikoff, chief investigator for the Berrien County, Mich., prosecutor's office, said Tuesday that there is a possible link between Clyde W.

Haynes and the slayings.

He said Haynes, now serving a 320-year sentence, was in the general area of the 18 slayings. In fact, Novikoff said, Haynes lived across the street from one of the Cleveland victims, Ruth Logans.

Haynes lived in Cleveland under the name of James Darnell, Novikoff said. The Cleveland mutilation slaying took place in 1963 and 1964.

"By studying photographs of the victims it was obvious they were killed by the same man," Novikoff said. He has studied the slayings for five years.

He said the slain women were mutilated with a sharp instrument and then they were either strangled or had their throats slashed.

Haynes was arrested in the Chicago area in 1966 after a woman who had been assaulted, robbed and left to die in a field identified Haynes as her assailant.

Novikoff said the woman was quoted as saying Haynes told her: "You'll be rotten like the rest of the women when they find you."

He said that while Haynes was awaiting trial he told a cellmate in the Cook County Jail (Chicago) that he had "killed a couple of women in the fruit country in Michigan."

Novikoff said that while studying cases in Chicago he found that while Haynes lived there from mid-1965 until his arrest there had been five rape-slayings in Cook County and five others in two adjacent counties.

He said those slayings, the four in his county in Michigan and the four in Cleveland followed the same pattern.

Mrs. Logans was found dead in her East Side Cleveland home in December, 1963, and in January, 1964, three more women were raped, mutilated and slain on the city's East Side. The victims were Mrs. Arotha Hawkins, 26, Mrs. Annie Fay Chandler, 35, and Miss Janice Hopper, 22.

Novikoff said his main interest in solving the Berrien County slayings was to "allay the fears of people in my community that a sadistic killer is still loose."

Three More Ohioans Killed In Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon released the names Tuesday of three more Ohioans killed in action in Southeast Asia.

Link Saxbe, Stokes To Gaming Firm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — U. S. Sen. William B. Saxbe, Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes and a Columbus firm that has figured in the statewide loan scandal investigation all own stock in a Chicago firm, it was reported Tuesday.

The Willoughby News-Herald

said Saxbe, Stokes and the LCM Corp. of Columbus all own shares in the Bally Manufacturing Corp. The firm makes slot machines and gaming devices.

Saxbe, reached in Washington, said he knew the firm made gaming devices when he bought the stock. "I bought 400 shares and they gave me 200 in some kind of split," Saxbe said. "It was recommended as a good investment."

The News-Herald said Sam Klein, Bally treasurer, contributed $2,500 to Saxbe's 1968 senatorial campaign and $2,350 to Stokes for his 1969 campaign.

The paper said Stokes owned 200 shares of Bally stock in December of 1969. The Cleveland mayor was in Washington and could not be reached. A spokesman at his office said he knew nothing about the mayor's stock holdings.

The LCM Corp., which the Willoughby paper said owns 60 shares of Bally stock, was involved with Crofters, Inc., in arranging short-term loans for private corporations from the School Employees Retirement System. A grand jury now is investigating some of those loans.

Saxbe said he bought the stock through a Cleveland brokerage firm headed by John O. Doerge of Cleveland, identified by the News-Herald as a director of the Bally firm.

Records in the secretary of state's office show a $1,000 contribution to Saxbe's 1968 campaign from J. O. Doerge. Saxbe said he did not know Doerge or Klein.

State Fair In 2nd Half Of Schedule

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Fair moved into the second half of its 12-day stand today with continued sunny weather helping to push attendance to record levels.

The one millionth visitor to "Expohio '70" passed through the gates early Tuesday and by the day's end, total attendance figures stood at 1,145,704 for the first six days — 139,000 more than the six-day figure last year.

The millionth visitor was recognized as one of the seven members of the John Cochran family of Strongsville. The Cochrans and their five children were treated to stuffed animals and tickets for free rides, food and shows.

The Johnny Cash Show takes over the grandstand today through Friday. The Bob Hope show begins Saturday and runs through the end of the fair Monday.

Lynn Wallace of near Conover was crowned Ohio County and Independent Fair Queen over 70 county and one independent fair entries.

The 18-year-old brunette was Champaign County Junior Fair Queen nad is majoring in fashion design at the University of Cincinnati.

The members of her court are Cindy Hester, Butler County; Sally Stinson, Ross County; Diane Disque, Franklin County, and Cindy Martin, Miami County.

Trucking Firm To Hire Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP)— Roadway Express, Inc., the nation's third largest trucking firm, will offer jobs to 105 blacks the firm had once rejected as employment prospects.

The Justice Department said Tuesday the offers are part of a consent decree settling a 1968 job discrimination suit it filed against the Akron, Ohio, company.

The department said the case is the first in which the government has attempted to enjoin job discrimination throughout a company's nation-wide operations.

Viet Cease-Fire Pushed By Solon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U. S. Rep. William Minshall, R-Ohio, says he has urged President Nixon to give urgent consideration to a proposal for a cease fire throughout Vietnam.

Minshall, in San Francisco en route to Korea, said Monday night that he asked Nixon in a telegram to the President's San Clemente home 'to give immediate and urgent consideration to a proposal for a cease fire throughout Vietnam in an effort to try to move stalled Paris peace talks off dead center.

"I firmly believe that if the North Vietnamese agree to such a proposal the peace talks can have meaningful and fruitful results."

Stewart Granger Still Has Desire To Make 'Good Film'

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After starring in 60 films, Stewart Granger admits he still has a goal: "making a movie I was really proud of."

The tall, handsome Englishman, who at 37 jokes that he's in a contest with Lorne Greene "to see who can grow the biggest white sideburns," explains: "As an actor, he's not proud of his films. Actors don't act to please the audience but to impress other actors. They're called actors' actors."

"They wish another actor to come to them and say, 'You were wonderful in that part.'"

"When an audience says, 'I loved you in that part,' they're not criticizing you as an actor. They liked you as the person—as Scaramouche, as the hunter in 'King Solomon's Mines,' the 'Prisoner of Zenda'—a few of Granger's roles."

"I don't think I ever made a film where other actors came and said, 'My gosh, you were great in that film.'"

Granger, turning to series television this fall in NBC's "The Men from Shiloh," remarked that his late friend Spencer Tracy made many films to be proud of.

"His performance in 'Inherit the Wind' was fantastic. If I'd made one film like that I think I could relax and say, 'All right! I made a good film.'"

"Spence was an actor's actor. Everybody thought he was great. Marlon Brando is an actor's actor—or was an actor's actor. Richard Burton is an actor's actor."

"I don't try to be cruel, but Alan Ladd was not an actor's actor but a very successful film star. Stewart Granger was quite a successful film star, but I don't think he was an actor's actor." Granger said he might have become an actor's actor

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The head of the nation's oldest bank believes the boards of big corporations and banks should have seats for women, blacks, the poor, the young, and the consumer.

"There will be changes in the Go back to the theater? 'Too lazy. The theater's hard work,' and government more responsive," says John Bunting, president and chief executive officer of First Pennsylvania & Trust Co., the largest in Philadelphia with assets of $2.8 billion. "And they will come about either by revolution or evolution."

"Frankly, I prefer evolution, and thus will help it, because I am opposed to anarchy, to violence."

By 1980, if Bunting is right, he says a third of the members of the boards of major corporations, including his bank, may be filled by men and women representing consumer groups.

Specifically, he thinks there should be a place on boards for a person under 26. And a spot, too, for someone earning under $7,500.

"Definitely a black, and positively a woman," Bunting says, the engaging grin on his sun-burned face suddenly dissolving into a serious mold. "This will come swiftly. An overwhelming majority of today's corporations, maybe 98 per cent, don't have a black or a woman on their boards. There are none on the business board I'm on."

A maverick in banking, the brash and athletic-looking Bunting, talks relaxed but admits to constant excitement in his search for the unconventional. He insists it's time to discard the theory that only a limited group of men, that so-called magic 100, should run all the important boards in any city.

"That may have been sound years ago, but it's certainly no longer legitimate," he said. "There are hundreds of qualified people who deserve a piece of the action."

And he's already hearing from a lot of them: "I have more than 75 written applications from young people, and they may be too old by the time we get around to picking such a person."

Bunting, a 5-foot-8, 150-pounder who runs a mile every day "for my well-being," thinks maybe the young and the poor could be the same person, perhaps a college student or a graduate fellow.

Scientist In On A-Bomb Beginning To Head Plant

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP) — project to create a sustained controlled nuclear reaction.

"There were several people at Chicago pretty much my age," Agnew recalled in an interview. "We were really the slave labor on the project, stacking graphite and things like that."

"And I was very lucky when I went there, because somehow Fermi decided he liked me."

With Fermi, Agnew went to the remote New Mexico laboratory in 1943. The work of Fermi and others had convinced scientists that an atomic bomb could be built. The government initiated a crash program to develop one, fearing the Germans had a substantial start.

At 49, Agnew, who served two terms in the New Mexico Senate in the 1950s, is stepping into the shoes once worn by the late J. Robert Oppenheimer, the physicist who founded Los Alamos and directed development of the first atomic bomb.

Agnew was only 21 in 1942 when, armed with a fresh bachelor's degree from the University of Denver, he joined the metallurgical laboratory at the University of Chicago. Enrico Fermi, the late Italian physicist, was working there on the secret project to create a sustained controlled nuclear reaction.

"There were several people at Chicago pretty much my age," Agnew recalled in an interview. "We were really the slave labor on the project, stacking graphite and things like that."

"And I was very lucky when I went there, because somehow Fermi decided he liked me."

With Fermi, Agnew went to the remote New Mexico laboratory in 1943. The work of Fermi and others had convinced scientists that an atomic bomb could be built. The government initiated a crash program to develop one, fearing the Germans had a substantial start.

After World War II, Agnew followed Fermi back to Chicago, earned a doctorate under him and returned to Los Alamos in 1949. He advanced through the ranks, becoming head of the weapons physics division and an expert on nuclear weapons design and research.

Fayette County Airport Notes

By JUDY DENNIS

The events of the past two weeks are more or less a blur to me for I was so busy with the farmers and the agricultural spray planes that I had little time to observe any other activities. All in all 8,661 acres of corn were sprayed. For several days, we had three "Ag" planes going at once, flying as much as 10 hours a day, each.

Here are some of the highlights of which I have a record. Dr. and Mrs. Chuck Pfersick flew to Louisville, Ky., for a few days visit with their daughter. Dr. Pfersick just got his plane back after having VIET VET IS ONLY 15 — Walter Lee Martin (above), a Vietnam veteran with two tours of combat and two Purple Hearts, was arrested by FBI agents after it was discovered he is only 15 years old. The Dothan, Ala., youth is 6'3" tall and weighs 198 pounds. He was nabbed in Ft. Carson, Colo.

some repairs on the radios. He had a little bad luck with some lightning damage from a recent storm; the antenna was really shredded.

Steve Jette took his long cross-country flight to Van Wert and Lima and back. A student pilot's long cross-country has to be at least 100 miles in one direction.

Curt Hiser received his recommendation ride from Warren Coil, after which Bill flight-tested him and issued him his private license a few days later. Congratulations, Curt!

Congratulations are also in order for Jim Rodenfels. Jim passed his written test for his commercial license.

Jim Rodenfels went on his first cross-country flight with Bill and then took his first solo-cross-country flight a few days later.

Charles Hawkins also took his first dual cross-country flight with Bill.

We have had seven new students join our approved school in the last two weeks. They are Bob Cline, Frank Verderano, Jack Patton, Kenny Arnold, Ron Fitzwater, John Carnets, and Dave Faulkner. Welcome to the Club, Fellas.

We had a freak storm blow in suddenly a week ago Sunday when Warren was flying with Bob Cline and Bill was flying with Frank Verderano. Bill and Frank made it back in, but by the time Warren and Bob had lined up with the runway the wind had increased so intensely that they had to fly on to Ross County and land. Therefore, Bob got his first dual cross-country flight before he was ready.

Jim Rodenfels flew to Van Wert on Tuesday, to bring his "big" brother, Tom, down to "Court House" for the day. Howard Wright's family is getting to be a real flying family. In fact, the second time Howard had the kids up, two of them went to sleep.

We've had several charter trips, in the past two weeks. Bill flew to Muncie, Ind., for the National Cash Register Co. race enthusiasts to Springfield, Ill., in our twin Apache and we have had two charters to Detroit carrying freight from the Greenfield Plastics Corp. to the Chrysler Co.

Bob Smith, Greenfield, flew to Plymouth, Ind., in our Cherokee Six to pick up his daughter who had been attending school at the Culver Academy.

Bill Pitzer took one of his co-workers, Dick Mallow, on a short trip, and Eddie met his brother and took him a ride. Larry Soldan has flown in a few times in his pretty little champ with his trusty co-pilot — his grandson, Jeff.

Dave Hiestand, home from college for a vacation with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hiestand, flew for the first time since January and Bud Shaw has been doing some last minute flying before resuming his studies at the university.

Dave Johnson came over from Lancaster. It was good to see Dave again. He flew one of our trainers down over the new golf course near New Martinsburg to inspect it from the air.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Holder flew from Illinois in their Cherokee 140 to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Preston.

Mike Thompson took his brother on a night flight and also took his cousin, Joe Boylan, on a flight over the county. Dick Barger, of Scope Manufacturing Co., took a business trip to Indiana and Dr. Jack Yager flew to Sandusky to visit friends.

right along. He got his dual cross-country flight under his belt last week, and is now ready to solo.

In addition to the hectic and noisy activity with the "Ag" planes landing every few minutes in addition to our regular traffic, we have had dump trucks speeding in and out of the airport and the roar of road graders. The new ramp area and taxiways are beginning to take shape and we can hardly wait until they are completed so we can shift airplanes to the badly needed space. This concludes my notes for this week and don't forget to come visit us.

KC Hurler Four-Hits Sagging Angels, 4-0

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Eleven months ago today, Wally Bunker won a ball game, Tuesday night, the Kansas City right-hander won another.

In between, there was plenty of aggravation, a scarcity of satisfaction and a great, big zero in Bunker's games won column—exactly the diet he fed California's frustrated Angels Tuesday night.

Bunker hurled a four-hitter for his first victory of the year, shutting out California 4-0. The loss, combined with Minnesota's 4-0, 7-1 sweep over Milwaukee, cost the Angels 1½ games and dropped them 4½ back in the American League's West Division race.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, New York trimmed Baltimore 4-2, Detroit outlasted Boston 10-9, Oakland edged Chicago 6-5 and Cleveland topped Washington 4-3.

Bunker, plagued by arm trouble this season, was 0-8 and carried a rather hefty 5.52 earned run average with him when he took the mound against the Angels.

California quickly loaded the bases with none out in the first inning, but Bunker weaved his way out of the jam and was virtually home free after that.

Kansas City bunched five hits and scored all of its runs in the seventh. Ex-Angels' Ed Kirkpatrick and Paul Schaal played prominent roles in the triumph. Kirkpatrick, who had three hits, opened the seventh with a single. Hits by Billy Sorrell, Schaal and Tom Matchick made it 2-0. Bunker drove in a run with a fielder's choice and Cookie Rojas' two-out single delivered another. Bunker's RBI, like the victory, was his first of the campaign.

The Twins, meanwhile, rode Harmon Killebrew's big bat to their sweep over Milwaukee. Killebrew exploded a pair of three-run homers—one in each game, and drove in seven runs in the doubleheader.

Killebrew's 39th homer in the opener was all the offense Jim Perry needed for his 20th victory. Perry scattered five hits and became the first right-hander to win 20 this year. Baltimore left-handers Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally and Cincinnati southpaw Jim Merritt all reached 20 victories earlier.

The Twins led the nightcap 1-0 on Killebrew's bad-hop single until there were two out in the ninth. Then Milwaukee bunched hits by Tito Francona, Bob Burdett and Ted Kubiak to tie it. It was a momentary problem, though.

Two innings later, the Twins exploded the tie with six runs, the last three on Killebrew's second homer of the night and 40th this season. The big slugger now has 106 RBIs.

Roy White and Bobby Murcer rocketed home runs, propelling New York past Baltimore. Fritz Peterson got ninth-inning help from Lindy McDaniel to nail down his 16th victory of the season. Jim Hardin, 4-5, took the loss.

Detroit wiped out a seven-run Boston lead and overtook the Red Sox with Jim Price's grand slam home keying the comeback. Norm Cash, Jim Northrup and Gates Brown also connected for the Tigers while Tony Conigliaro had a bases-loaded homer and Mike Andrews a solo shot for the Red Sox.

Tony Larussa's RBI single capped a two-run ninth-inning rally that gave Oakland its victory over the White Sox. Chicago had scored two runs in the top of the ninth to take the lead but the A's bounced right back to win it against reliever Wilbur Wood with Sal Bando singling home the tying run before Larussa delivered the winner.

Mike Paul worked 8 1-3 innings and Rick Austin mopped up as Cleveland hung on to whip Washington. Paul had arrived just hours before game time after being recalled from Wichita of the American Association, and had a four-hitter until the ninth.

Politics seems to have become a major event with Israeli, Arab and Portuguese athletes the primary participants.

Members of the Arab teams have refused to face Israel or Portugal in several individual events, such as fencing, but the major question was whether similar incidents would arise in track and field, where there are no direct confrontations.

The United States is expected to grab most of the track and field titles. U.S. athletes have already picked up 19 gold medals here.

The Soviet Union notched its ninth gold Tuesday, defeating Romania 9-3 in the women's team foil finals. The Russians also appear likely to pick up golds in men's and women's volleyball and men's tennis, gymnastics and basketball.

But the undefeated Soviet basketball team will get a strong challenge from the United States, also unbeaten, which moved into the round-robin finals Tuesday with a 95-56 crushing of Italy.

After last season, Adderley, a star cornerback, accused Coach Phil Bengtson and his staff of keeping him off the Pro Bowl team.

"I'm very grateful to Coach Bengtson for giving me the opportunity to play in another Super Bowl game," Adderley, who will be starting his 10th National Football League season, said from his home in Philadelphia.

The soggy Du Quoin racing strip, soaked by rains Monday, was improving Tuesday and should be in excellent shape for the big race if there is no more rain.

John Simpson Sr., owner of Timothy T., admitted his horse doesn't like rough going but Timothy T. remained a solid 5-2 choice to win the mile trot.

Simpson's son, John Jr., will be driving in his first Hambletonian at the age of 27. The elder Simpson reined Timothy T.'s sire, Ayres, to victory in the 1964 Hambletonian in the record time of 1:56 4-5.

The race is slated to begin at 2:05 p.m., CDT, with the second heat scheduled an hour later. If a third heat is needed, it will be held another hour later.

Timothy T. has a record of six victories in eight starts and has been brought along carefully by the Simpsons.

Victory Star at an unofficial 9-2 in the non-betting race, Speedy Spin at 5-1, Clayt Hanover at 6-1 and Luther Hanover at 6-1 figure to be the more formidable challengers.

Victory Star will be coming out of the eighth position. Speedy Spin is sixth, Clayt Hanover has the pole and Luther Hanover is in the No. 5 slot.

Victory Star won the Yonkers Futurity and will be driven by Vernon Dancer. Speedy Spin, son of 1963 Hambletonian winner Speedy Scot, will be guided by Frank Ervin. Ervin scored Hambletonian victories with Diller Hanover in 1959 and Kerry Way in 1966.

Clayt Hanover will be driven by Stanley Dancer, brother of Vernon, and winner of the 1968 Hambletonian with Nevele

QB Problem Still Plagues Cincy Bengals

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals in their quest to replace Greg Cook are looking for their 11th quarterback.

Kay Stephenson, a one-time Florida State star, reported to the National Football League team's camp quarters Tuesday and was assigned to the taxi squad.

Cook, the 1969 rookie-of-the-year in the American Football League, was out for the season after undergoing shoulder surgery. Backup man Sam Wyche oversaw the Bengals' defeat of the Cleveland Browns in an exhibition game 31-24 Saturday night.

Dave Lewis, quarterback punter, is the team's other hope. Stephenson was picked up on waivers from the Oakland Raiders. He started with the San Diego Chargers and then moved to Buffalo.

Stephenson's arrival heralded the end of Jim Del Gaizo, the rookie from Tampa, who was waived Tuesday.

Paul Brown, coach and general manager, said he expects to give quarterbacks Bob Davis and Virgil Carter a chance in the exhibition Saturday against the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee.

JOE, AL RETURN TO JETS—Joe Namath (right), perennial retiree, and Al Atkinson (62) go separate ways as they both return to training with the New York Jets at Hofstra University, Hempstead, N.Y. Retirement of Atkinson, team's middle linebacker, was touched off by so-called "badboy" antics of Joe, Super Bowl quarterback hero of the Jets in 1969.

Giants Win, 5-3

Slumping Cincy Worries Sparky

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, still out front in the National League Western Division slipped to the .500 mark since the All Star break Tuesday night and Manager Sparky Anderson was worried.

Reds Recall Indy Players

CINCINNATI (AP) — Right-hand pitcher Milt Wilcox, in-fielder Frank Duffy and catcher Bill Plummer, called up Tuesday from the Indianapolis Indian farm team, will report for duty with the Cincinnati Reds Thursday.

They complete the season with their American Association club today.

The addition of Plummer will give the Reds some catching insurance for the last month of the season. They have gone all season with Johnny Bench and Pat Corrales and in a recent game had to use utility man Jim Stewart as a catcher.

Wilcox has had a 12-10 record with Indianapolis and a 2.94 earned run average. Duffy hit .262.

"Right now we're playing terrible," said Red Manager Sparky Anderson.

"We better play better ball or we won't be there next month. We're simply not coming through with the important hits.

"No manager ever puts runs on the board. It's up to those guys in the other room," he said nodding through his office door to the quiet Reds dressing room.

"But I'm pressing no panic button," Anderson said. "Jim Maloney will be back in three or four days and I think he'll give us a shot in the arm."

Maloney has been out of action since early April with an injured ankle.

Stephenson's game-winning hit was only his third of the season in 31 trips to the plate. Those three hits, all pinch hits, have brought in six runs.

"I just hit the ball pretty good," Stephenson said. Giant pitcher Gaylord Perry, recording his 18th win, said he was slightly tired "but I could have gone a few more innings."

Perry, who has pitched 271 2-3 innings, tops in the league, stifled a seventh inning rally after the Reds tied it 3-3 with two runs, by striking out John Bench and Lee May.

"I used off speed pitches," he said, "because they were hitting my fast ball."

Jim Ray Hart had a two-run double and Bobby Bonds a homer for the Giants before Stephenson put them ahead.

Gary Nolan (15-5) will face Juan Marichal (9-9) tonight. The Giants are ahead 7-6 with the Reds on the season.

Local football fans will have an opportunity to look over the two county high school teams Wednesday evening when both units will be featured in 'Meet the Team' nights.

The Washington C. H. Blue Lions are scheduled to take the field at about 7 p.m. so that local fans can see them in uniform as they go through several drills and exhibit formations.

Following the 'Meet the Team' activities, the Lions will host strong Waverly in a scrimmage. Waverly scored five touchdowns in its first scrimmage last week while holding Ironton St. Joseph to a field goal.

At Miami Trace, fans will get a chance to meet not only the team but also the new head coach, Roy Lucas.

The Miami Trace Athletic Boosters will be selling memberships at the game and each member will receive a Miami Trace seat cushion. It is asked that those attending the event at Miami Trace Stadium bring a towel or a bar of soap.

The Pirates, who had lost six straight, maintained their 1½ game National League East edge over the New York Mets, who went 12 innings before subduing St. Louis 4-3.

The Chicago Cubs dropped to third place, two games back, after absorbing a 3-2 defeat in 13 innings at the hands of the red-hot Philadelphia Phillies.

In other NL games, San Francisco stopped Cincinnati 5-3, Los Angeles swept a pair from Atlanta, 6-3, 3-2 and San Diego nipped Houston 2-1 in 10 innings.

Bob Veale, 8-14, hurled six hitless innings before Bob Bailey homered in the seventh for the

Humbled Browns Regroup For Bout With Minnesota

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Browns Coach Fritz Heisler has remained unconcerned about his offensive line despite its failure to protect quarterback Bill Nelsen several times during last Saturday's exhibition game loss to Cincinnati.

Heisler, who is preparing his unit for Saturday's meeting with defending National Football League champion Minnesota, said, "There were some breakdowns in Cincinnati but all of it can't be blamed on any one group."

"Some of our new men were picked on occasionally, but that's understandable," said Heisler, a coach with the Browns in all 25 years of the club's existence.

"It's tough to replace a man like (retired tackle) Monte Clark," Heisler said. "He had the know-how and the moxie. I'm confident though, Joe Taffoni will do a satisfactory job. He is making good progress."

Taffoni, beginning his fourth year with the Browns, is teaming with veteran tackle Dick Schafrath. Guards John Demarie and Gene Hickerson and center Fred Hoaglin complete the Browns' veteran starting line.

Veteran Jim Copeland, a guard who may fill in at center, appears to have a backup job guaranteed. The Browns will keep another tackle and possibly another center.

The battle at tackle is between second year performer Al Jenkins and Bob McKay, who was selected second by the Browns in this year's college draft.

"Both have been doing a pretty good job. Al has the advantage of being with us last season," Heisler said. McKay had a lot of catching up to do when he arrived after being with the College All Stars. He's been coming along much better in these past few weeks."

Other guard candidates are rookies Craig Wycinsky and Jim Langer. Chuck Reynolds is a backup center.

The Pirates, who had lost six straight, maintained their 1½ game National League East edge over the New York Mets, who went 12 innings before subduing St. Louis 4-3.

The Chicago Cubs dropped to third place, two games back, after absorbing a 3-2 defeat in 13 innings at the hands of the red-hot Philadelphia Phillies.

In other NL games, San Francisco stopped Cincinnati 5-3, Los Angeles swept a pair from Atlanta, 6-3, 3-2 and San Diego nipped Houston 2-1 in 10 innings.

Bob Veale, 8-14, hurled six hitless innings before Bob Bailey homered in the seventh for the retired Jack Mollenkopf needing to find a quarterback replacement for Mike Phipps, who rewrote the Boilermaking passing record book for three seasons.

The choice must come from among no fewer than five candidates, led by senior Jeff Jones or sophomore Gary Danielson. Star receivers Ashley Bell and Stan Brown and linebackers Veno Paraskevass and Jim Teal are kingpins for Purdue which must face Notre Dame, Stanford, Michigan and Ohio State. The Boilermakers lost 13 starters from last year.

Minnesota, traditionally a November toughie under Murray Warmath, also lacks an experienced quarterback with Craig Curry the best bet. Still the Gophers return 15 starters, headed by power running Barry Mayer and Ernie Cook and defensive back Jeff Wright.

U.S. Leading Russia, 19-9

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Track and field gets under way today in the sixth University Games—but the question is whether they'll get under way for everyone.

Politics seems to have become a major event with Israeli, Arab and Portuguese athletes the primary participants.

Members of the Arab teams have refused to face Israel or Portugal in several individual events, such as fencing, but the major question was whether similar incidents would arise in track and field, where there are no direct confrontations.

The United States is expected to grab most of the track and field titles. U.S. athletes have already picked up 19 gold medals here.

The Soviet Union notched its ninth gold Tuesday, defeating Romania 9-3 in the women's team foil finals. The Russians also appear likely to pick up golds in men's and women's volleyball and men's tennis, gymnastics and basketball.

But the undefeated Soviet basketball team will get a strong challenge from the United States, also unbeaten, which moved into the round-robin finals Tuesday with a 95-56 crushing of Italy.

Estep Wins Two; Claims Crown

Estep Welding wrapped up its second Fayette Softball Association championship in as many years Tuesday night at Eymann Park with two resounding victories. Estep, finishing the season at 20-2, bombed Pennington 20-6 and NCR 22-1.

Against Pennington, Gary Merriman, Babe Merriman and Bob Thomas slammed four hits apiece and Pearly Harris and Dwight Simmons added three each. Pete Robinson hit a homer. Tom Anderson was the winning pitcher and Eddie Mon the loser.

Babe Merriman and Pete Robinson led a 24-hit attack in the win over NCR with four safeties each. Dwight Simmons had three hits, including a homer, and Pearly Harris and Harold White also contributed three hits. Bob Welch also blasted a homer.

Tom Anderson was the winning pitcher in the game. Town Tavern finished second in the standings with a 15-6 record.

us," said Mets' skipper Gil Hodges. "An awful big one. We needed to win one like this."

The Mets had lost six of their last eight games. Gibson, winding up with his sixth loss, gave up 11 hits, the last to Garrett in the 11th. The Mets' third baseman then stole second and went to third on shortstop Milt Ramirez' error before Jones' winning fly ball.

Each team scored in the 11th. Wayne Garrett, who opened the inning with his fourth hit off Cardinals' loser Bob Gibson, who was gunner for his 20th victory.

Adderley In Grid Shuffle

The Pro Bowl figured in Herb Adderley's troubles with the Green Bay Packers. Now it figures in his plans with the Dallas Cowboys.

Tuesday, the Cowboys sent center Malcolm Walker and defensive end Clarence Williams to Greene Bay for Adderley who had refused to report to the Packers.

After last season, Adderley, a star cornerback, accused Coach Phil Bengtson and his staff of keeping him off the Pro Bowl team.

"I'm very grateful to Coach Bengtson for giving me the opportunity to play in another Super Bowl game," Adderley, who will be starting his 10th National Football League season, said from his home in Philadelphia.

Saints' Year? It's Possible!

By JERRY ESTILL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Is this the year the New Orleans Saints will go beyond being the best expansion team in National Football League history and become a bonafide title contender?

Heading into his fourth year at the helm of the young club, coach Tom Fears believes the Saints are better in practically every category and vastly improved in the secondary, where help was most needed to improve on last year's 5-9 record.

Only two of last season's holdovers, Elijah Nevett and Gene Howard, figure in the Saints' secondary plans this year and they may have trouble holding their jobs.

Joe Scarpati, a seven-year veteran acquired from Philadelphia in a trade, is one of the reasons for Fears' optimism about his new secondary.

Another reason is good performances from several newcomers, among them Hugo Holas, Dickie Lyons and Doug Wyatt. Delle Howell from Grambling, the Saints No. 4 draft choice, was showing signs of being the best defensive back in training camp before he was sidelined for several weeks with a broken hand. He's due back early in the season.

The Saints' strong suit last year was a running attack led by Tony Baker and Andy Livingston. Baker is 10 pounds lighter this year and running better than ever.

Livingston, however, underwent knee surgery before training camp opened. He is expected back at work after the first couple of weeks of the season, but the knee will be a question mark.

If Livingston quickly regains his old form—he was the team's leading rusher last year—the Saints probably will have one of the best running attacks in pro football.

Even without Livingston, the ground game should be far above average thanks to good work from on Shy and backup men, Tom Barrington and Ernie Wheelwright. Rookie Jim Otis of Ohio State could help, too, although his preseason development has been hampered by lingering minor injuries.

Receiver Danny Abramowicz, the closest thing the Saints have to an established star, led the league in receiving last year and gives immediate quality to the receiving corps.

His running mate at the other wide flank is Al Dodd, fastest man on the team last year. Dodd was signed as a defensive back but switched to offense last year and developed quickly as a receiver.

Abramowicz and Dodd may be pushed by Ken Burrough, No. 1 draft choice, from Texas Southern. At 6-foot-4 and 212 pounds, Burrough has the blazing speed that could make him a superstar in short order.

Billy Gambrell, one of the NFL's leading receivers until a back injury grounded him, was picked up by the Saints on waivers in the off-season and may be ready for a comeback. He has proved that his back can take a licking and seems to be regaining his old quickness.

Quarterback Billy Kilmer isn't flashy and he gets his share of boos from New Orleans fans. However, he was at the controls most of the time last year when the Saints' offense was third best in the NFL.

With an improved receiving corps and the potential for an even better running back, this could be the year for Kilmer to shine.

Defensive end Doug Atkins is missing from last year's squad but despite this Fears said both the offensive and defensive lines are improved "and not just the first string."

Quality defensive help will be available from rookies Clovis Sinney, Doug Sutherland and Larry Estes.

The linebacking, Fears said, should be about the same—neither bad enough nor good enough to make it distinctive.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — South Africa's track and field athletes are banned from international competition for two years.

That action was taken Monday by the International Amateur Athletics Federation because of South Africa's segregationist policies.

Mississippi Tabbed As Top South Gridders

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Elisha Archie Manning III is reison enough to tab Mississippi as Dixie's best football team on the eve of the 1970 season.

Johnny Vaught, beginning his 24th season as head coach of the Rebels, stunned southern writers two years ago when he said the lanky redhead could be the best athlete at Ole Miss during his coaching career.

Manning, one of the leading candidates for the Heisman Trophy, has lived up to Vaught's rave notices, rewriting a record book that previously had been dotted with such names as Charley Conerly, John Dettley, Jake Gibbs, Glynn Griffing and Eagle Day.

The Rebels are favored to hand Vaught his seventh Southeastern Conference championship. Elsewhere in Dixie, Paul Dietzel's South Carolina Gamecocks are the class of the Atlantic Coast Conference, Richmond is the team to beat in the Southern Conference and Georgia Tech, rebounding after three straight 4-6 campaigns, and Florida State head the list of independents.

It will be a year of outstanding quarterbacks in the South, with Manning heading the list because he is as dangerous running with the ball as he is throwing. The SEC's cast of prime passers includes Scott Hunter of Alabama, John Reaves of Florida, Pat Sullivan of Auburn, Bobby Scott of Tennessee and Watson Brown of Vanderbilt. Untested but regarded as one is Louisiana State sophomore Bert Jones, son of former Cleveland Browns star Dub Jones.

Leo Hart of Duke is the king of ACC passers while Tommy Suggs ignites a prolific offense at South Carolina. Richmond's Charlie Richards, All-Southern Conference quarterback in 1969, returns after placing fifth nationally in total offense.

Sophomore Eddie McAshan, a Negro, can run and throw and has leadership qualities that should give him the No. 1 quarterback spot at Georgia Tech.

Mississippi, which whipped Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Day returns it 11 offensive starters from 1969 but faces problem rebuilding a defense. However, as an expert noted, with Manning the offense may be needed only sparingly.

The SEC annually produces five or six bowl teams and this year should be no exception. Although Ole Miss is favored, as many as seven teams could win the title.

LSU thundered through a 9-1 campaign last year but was snubbed by the bowls. Charles McClendon's Tigers are ranked No. 2 in the conference, but could win it all by beating Ole Miss Dec. 5 providing they get by a pair of rugged road assignments at Auburn and Alabama. Running back Tommy Casanova, an all-conference defensive player last year, is the major threat in the Tiger arsenal.

Defending champion Tennessee lost the heart of its defense, All-American linebacker Steve Kiner and his cohort, Jack Reynolds, but the Vols are set offensively. Bill Battle, at 28 perhaps the youngest major college coach in the nation, took over at Tennessee when Doug Dickey left to assume a similar post at his alma mater, Florida.

Florida rode the talents of sophomores Reaves, flanker Carlos Alvarez and running back Tommy Durrance to a 9-1 season, one of its best ever, and then the Gators trimmed Dickey's Vols in the Gator Bowl.

Paul "Bear" Bryant, unaccustomed to losing, combed the country for talent following a dismal eighth-place SEC finish last year and should be a title contender again. The offense ranks with the best and if Bryant is successful in rebuilding the defense, the Tide will be tough.

Auburn rolled to an 8-3 record a year ago, including a bowl defeat, and could be even better this year. Sullivan directs an awesome offense and Shug Jordan's defense was among the best last year.

Georgia, winner of two titles in four years, should be improved with a revamped offense if a quarterback blossoms early. The defense will again be tough, but probably not as strong as last year.

Vanderbilt, Kentucky and Mississippi State continue on the road of improvement, but none appears capable of escaping the second division.

ACC coaches expect their league to be tougher this year but Dietzel's Gamecocks were unbeaten in the conference in 1969 and are more experienced this time. Dietzel, who built a national champion at LSU in 1958, lost his top runner, Warren Muir, but returns Suggs and such line standouts as Jimmy Poston and David DeCamilla.

The battle for second should involve North Carolina and Duke. The Tar Heels have Don McCauley, ACC Player of the Year in 1969 after rushing for more than 1,000 yards, and Duke has Hart, who passed for 1,642 yards last year.

Clemson starts a new era with colorful Frank Howard retiring after 30 years as head coach of the Tigers. Former Arkansas assistant Hootie Ingram has taken charge and he says one of the major problems will be the adjustment of coaches and players. All-ACC halfback Ray Yager, who gained 968 yards, heads the offense.

North Carolina State, second a year ago, lost 13 starters and appears headed for a second division finish. Maryland should be better but still lacks depth and Virginia is in a similar position. Wake Forest should be better.

Richmond, which shared the Southern Conference title with Davidson last year, lost All-American end Walker Gillette and has only 22 lettermen returning, but the Spiders still appear to be the class of the conference. Richards, the all-league quarterback, passed for 2,556 yards and 21 touchdowns last year.

Coach Red Parker could be set to field the best team ever at The Citadel and the Bulldogs rank as the No. 1 challenger to Richmond. East Carolina has discarded the single wing for the pro set under new Coach Mike McGee and the Pirates rank third in the conference.

Davidson lost Gordon Slade, the league's player of the year, and may have trouble escaping the second division. Furman, William & Mary and Virginia Military combined for only three victories and one tie in 30 games last year.

Among the independents, Georgia Tech expects a stronger offense to go with a rock-ribbed defense headed by All-American tackle Rock Perdoni and deep backs Jeff For an Bubba Hoats.

Florida State lost ace quarterback Bill Cappleman from its 6-3-1 team of 1969 but Bill Peterson will again field a strong team built around quarterback Tommy Warren and running back Tommy Bailey. Kelly Cochran, an exciting quarterback, returns at Miami of Florida but will operate behind an untried offensive line.

Jim Pittman is ready to field his best team in five years at Tulane, keyed to a defense led by linebacker Ricky Kingrea and tackle Mike Walker.

49ers Have Lots Of Young Talent

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers must put a lot of things together to keep their 25th season from becoming another frustrating football experience.

As usual, the team looks like a contender on paper—at least on one side of the page.

Returning quarterbacks John Brodie and Steve Spurrier gave the 49ers the most productive passing game in the National Football League last season. The team had 3,379 yards passing, and the total offensive yardage, 4,694, was second in the league.

But the 49ers' 277 points ranked 10th among the 14 teams. Despite outgaining their opponents by almost 500 yards, the 49ers were outscored 277-319 and had a 4-8-2 record.

How were all those offensive yards wasted?

"They say kicking and kick coverage is 25 per cent of football," says Coach Dick Nolan. "Last year, it was about 75 per cent for us. I hate to think of the games we could have won."

The placekicking this season will be done by Bruce Gossett, acquired from the Los Angeles Rams in a trade for cornerback Kermit Alexander. Gossett kicked 22 field goals in 1969.

There will be a new punter, too, because Jon Kilgore didn't report to training camp. Spurrier and rookie running back John Isenbarger are the most likely candidates.

Bruce Taylor, a first round draft pick from Boston University, should give the 49ers a strong kick return threat. He's also trying to win the corner back job vacated by Alexander.

The 49ers have one of the best stockpiles of young talent in football, with two first round players from each of the last four college drafts. Nine rookies were on last year's squad.

"It will be awfully tough for a rookie to stick this year," Nolan said as the youngsters began disappearing from training camp.

This year's No. 1 draft pick was Cedrick Hardman, a 6-foot-3, 250-pound defensive end from North Texas State. Nolan says he is capable of winning a starting job.

Ted Kwalick, the former Penn State All-American, is battling Windsor for the starting role.

Tackle Len Rohde, a 10-year man, teams with four young players in the interior offensive line. Guards Elmer Collett and Woody Peoples, tackle Cas Banaszek and center Forrest Blue. All left college less than four years ago.

The 49ers have come close but have never won a divisional championship. The realignment of the NFL makes the goal look almost impossible this year.

They're in the Western Division of the National Conference, along with the Rams, the Atlanta Falcons and New Orleans Saints. Against those teams last year, the 49ers were 0-5.

Success Of L. A. Rams Will Pivot On Defense

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Roman Gabriel won honors in 1969 as the National Football League's most valuable player and could be better this season, yet the success of the Los Angeles Rams pivots on defense.

Stopping opponents proved the biggest factor during the first three seasons of Coach George Allen's tenure particularly in 1967-68, but they didn't do it as well a year ago.

Allen says he counts on his veteran defensive platoon but admits it left some things to be desired in 1969. Although both free safety Eddie Meador and linebacker Maxie Baughan, the man who called defensive signals, retired after last year, both changed their minds.

"Gabriel's best years are ahead of him," said the coach before this season began and after his quarterback completed 217 of his 399 passes for 2,549 yards and 24 touchdowns a year ago.

Los Angeles won the Coastal Division title but lost to the Minnesota Vikings 23-20 in their playoff game for the Western Conference title. Then they wallowed Dallas 31-0 in the Playoff Bowl.

Defensively along the front line, the Rams have such stalwarts as 270-pound Merlin Olsen, 250-pound 'Deacon' Jones, 270-pound Coy Bacon and 255-pound Diron Talbert.

Add to that list 260-pound Rick Cash, who has looked much better this fall, and you have an impressive array.

Jack Pardee, Doug Woodlief, Jim Purnell, John Pergine, Myron Pottios and rookie Jack Reynolds provide linebacking strength.

A trade brought former UCLA star Kermit Alexander from the San Francisco 49ers in exchange for place kicker Bruce Gossett to bolster the defensive secondary which also numbers Alvin Haymond, a kick return ace, Clancy Williams, Ron Smith and Willie Daniel.

If the Rams are to improve offensively, they must get more mileage from running backs.

"Larry Smith will definitely be improved," said Allen of the Florida product who won his way into a starting job last year but has been hampered with injuries this fall.

Les Josephson, after starring in 1967, missed the entire 1968 season because of a torn Achilles tendon.

Mental Health Discussed At Rotary Meeting

The field of mental health and retardation has been sadly neglected in Ohio, the Rev. Robert L. Sayer told Rotarians Tuesday.

Speaking at their luncheon meeting in the Country Club, the Rev. Mr. Sayer said Ohio ranks 47th in mental health service and 49th in retardation service.

The Rev. Mr. Sayer is the executive director of the five-county Board of Mental Health and Retardation, which includes Fayette, Ross, Highland, Pike and Pickaway counties. He resigned as pastor of the Waverly Church of Christ in Christian Union to accept the position. His office is at the Scioto-Point Valley Guidance Center, in Chillicothe.

He said the work in this area, was actually begun in 1752 by the Quaker Church.

He said Mental Health and Retardation Bill No. 648 has been a great help to the program in that it provides for training people with an intelligence quotient (IQ) of 50 and below. Prior to this, he said, it was a part of the Child Welfare Department.

The Rev. Mr. Sayer said the Ohio chapter of Mental Health and Retardation has reported there are 400,000 mentally retarded individuals in the state and that 700 community classes are now serving mentally retarded persons 21 years old and over. More than 85 percent of the mentally deficient are capable of learning ways to become productive and useful citizens, he declared. This is now being accomplished in classes and sheltered workshops, he added.

Classes are now being conducted at Chillicothe to train teachers in the field of mental health and retardation.

The Rev. Mr. Sayer said an effort is now being made to decentralize the seven state hospitals and to have no more than 500 patients in a hospital.

He noted that a drug abuse education program training is now available at his office. He said the drug abuse problem is growing, even in this five-county area. The program is basically for junior and senior high schools.

He said a "dream" for this five-county area is a "comprehensive mental health center," not only for those who can afford psychological help but for everyone in need regardless of financial status, creed or color.

The Rev. Mr. Sayer complimented Fayette County Commissioner Laurence Dumford for his help in implementing the program here.

Dr. James E. Rose, program chairman, introduced the speaker and President John S. Bath conducted the meeting.

Visiting Rotarians were Robert Redman and Ted Hankins, of London; Ralph Phillips and Robert Head, of Greenfield; David Raffell, of Mount Sterling.

Cease-Fire Plan Is Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fourteen senators, including some of President Nixon's staunchest backers, have urged the President to reactivate the stymied Paris peace talks by pressing for a Vietnam cease-fire.

The senators suggested in a letter Tuesday the United States should lay such a new initiative on the bargaining table. The cease-fire should be coupled with aid to North and South Vietnam and propose free elections in which the Viet Cong could participate, they said.

"We believe that there is much to gain by making this proposal the next order of business at the Paris talks, and we hope you will give it your most serious consideration," the senators wrote Nixon.

U.S. negotiators have made previous cease-fire offers which have drawn no positive response from North Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

The proposal suggested by the senators would have free elections in South Vietnam supervised by an international commission, call for freedom for war prisoners and provide economic reconstruction aid to North and South Vietnam.

The letter was made public shortly after the Senate, by a 55-39 vote, rejected a proposal requiring Nixon to withdraw all U.S. troops from Vietnam by the end of 1971.

Among the signers of the letter to Nixon were Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who supported the "end-the-war amendment," and Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ari., who opposed the amendment.

Scott and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., a leader in organizing support for the letter, told a news conference they consider this "a good time to stir something up" at the peace talks.

Stokes Warns Of Revolution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing personal poverty as a youth, Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes attacked federal military spending and warned there would be a revolution if the government continued to ignore the nation's poor.

U.S. Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., accused Stokes during the Tuesday hearing of "oversimplifying" and "misleading millions of people."

Stokes replied that as mayor of Cleveland he had simple problems to deal with, "like people who can't eat today."

The number of pictures painted by the Dutch painter Rembrandt has been variously estimated at from 48 to 998.

Two More Juveniles In Custody

Two more juveniles, wards of the Children's Home, have been placed in the custody of the Fayette County Sheriff as part of an investigation into the theft of two trucks in the county Monday night.

A 15-year-old boy and a 12-year-old boy were lodged in the juvenile detention center Tuesday evening. That makes a total of seven children from the home now incarcerated pending hearings in Juvenile Court.

Four of the children, all 14-year-old boys, were apprehended in a stolen County Home truck in Chillicothe early Tuesday. They also are being accused of stealing a truck owned by the Dr. Heinz Co., Bloomingburg, the same night, and wrecking it on Dill Road.

Involved also is a 14-year-old girl who was lodged in the juvenile detention section of the County Jail Tuesday morning. She, and the others, are allegedly involved in misconduct and conspiracy at the Children's Home, according to Juvenile authorities.

The training college of the Royal Canadian Police at Regina, Sask., has perhaps the only church in the world used exclusively by policemen.

Training Course For Firemen Set At Bloomingburg

BLOOMINGBURG — Fire Chief Rex Bloomer reported to Council Tuesday night that he has completed arrangements for a training course for the Bloomingburg Fire Department's volunteer firemen. Starting Sept. 24, the course includes three-hour sessions once a week for 12 weeks. He said firemen from nearby departments may enroll. There are approximately 20 volunteers in the local Fire Department. The Hillsboro fire chief will be the instructor.

Council reviewed several complaints that residents of the village are burning trash on their property and that they consider this a fire hazard. Council instructed the mayor to enforce the village nuisance ordinance, which cover trash burning.

A request by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hidy that Council exempt the Sunview addition in the northeast portion of town from the anti-trailer ordinance was granted.

James Arnott was granted permission to tap the surface water sewer for drainage from the downspout at his home, 119 Biddle Blvd.

A building permit for a garage was issued to Oscar Glass, 75 Biddle Blvd.

Routine bills totaling $700.23 were approved.

Heroin is the most potent of all depressant drugs.

Girl Injured In Collision

A teenage passenger in a vehicle involved in a two-car collision in the city Tuesday was injured and damage was estimated at a total of $1,100, according to city police.

The mishap was the only one investigated in the city - county area Tuesday. One of the drivers involved was issued a citation.

Officers said Linda L. Bellar, 19, Rt. 1, Bloomingburg, driving eastbound on Westward Avenue at 4:25 p.m., drove left of center and struck another car operated by Joseph L. Jones, 27, of Greenfield. Damage was estimated at $500 to the Jones car and $600 to Miss Bellar's.

Carol Ann Bellar, 14, of 213 Green St., the passenger, suffered face and knee lacerations. She was treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital and was released.
